FOREWORD

*"Bliss it was to be alive,
But to be young was very heaven."*

WORDSWORTH

To some, high school presents a picture of books, lessons, and hard work, but the staff of the 1956 Blue and White has taken a more light-hearted view. We have chosen as our theme the title of Cornelia Otis Skinner's book "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

We are likely to look forward with eagerness to graduating from high school, for we feel that days of greater freedom are ahead. We grumble and complain about too much homework, too many tests, and too much discipline. However, as graduation day draws near, the day when we all separate to go to different colleges and to take up different occupations, we realize that we are leaving moments we can never recapture except in memories. Despite our surface exhilaration, all of us know that we are going to miss the experiences that we shared with our classmates and the faculty.

Throughout this yearbook we are presenting to you our "young and gay" activities both in and out of school with the hope that they will bring back to you happy memories of your own school days. Our education here at Classical High School has provided us with a sound philosophy of life so that our hearts will always remain young and gay.

"What greater or better gift can we offer . . . than to teach and instruct our youth?"

CICERO

"Thou wert my guide, philosopher, and friend."

POPE

Classical students and graduates will recall occasions when they, too, like Avril Brown, Leone Casey, and Douglas Filley enjoyed a conference with Dr. Chatto.

The door to Dr. Chatto's office has been always open to students, teachers, parents and anyone else who sought the solution to a problem, or desired advice on a matter of procedure from our guide, philosopher and friend.

In morning mist and morning shine
The hours climb up to noon,
While scattered jewels on the grass
Flame and fade too soon.
With laughing lips and shining eyes
Youth greets the rising day,
For youth is like the morn itself
When hearts are young and gay.

But laughter is not all the tale.
Youth knows sadness too,
And youthful joys can vanish
As transient as the dew.
Youth has its griefs and doubts and fears
Before its prize is won,
Commingle gaiety and tears
Like morning mist and sun.

So count your days and count your years
Till all your youth is told,
But may you keep the joy of youth
Till years have made you old.
Youthful zest and love of life
Go with you all the way,
And may, until your days shall end,
Your hearts be young and gay.

DR. JOSEPH N. RODEHEAVER

Dr. Joseph N. Rodeheaver joined the faculty of Classical High School in September 1954 as assistant principal. Dr. Rodeheaver is ever present at all activities whether curricular or extracurricular. During the school day he is ready and willing to help students and teachers.

This year Dr. Rodeheaver made his debut in the Classical Carousel. As the god, Zeus, he enacted his role with the same efficiency with which he performs his daily duties here at Classical.

Miss Ruth Cornell, Mr. William Finn, and Mrs. Dorothy Bemis, counselors at Classical, must be able to answer the numerous questions of anxious students.

GUIDANCE COUNSELORS

A day never goes by when the offices of Mrs. Bemis, Mr. Finn, and Miss Cornell are not crowded with anxious students eager to learn the results of their college board or Boston University tests. Perhaps they also want to discuss their plans for college. All three counselors are skilled in the art of straightening out college entrance problems, and from the time the Classical student is a freshman until he is a senior, they assist him in every obstacle he meets at school.

MRS. BEMIS

advises Anne Loughman on the choice of a college.

ENOCH ARDEN

is dramatized by Miss Dickerman's tenth grade pupils, Ralph Peck, Jane Ouellette, Leonard Kantor, Carol Bennett, and Sidney Weber.

Three years of English are required of every student at Classical. Besides the usual courses in English, Speech, Special English, and Journalism are offered as electives. Through the reading of literature, students learn to understand themselves and others. By using correct grammar and an adequate vocabulary, they are able to engage in intelligent conversation. In writing compositions they begin to realize the importance of exact expression of ideas.

Without a doubt Classical High School considers its English staff one of the best in the country. Mr. Edwin Smith, the beloved head of the English department, teaches all levels of English including the senior Special English class where students become acquainted with great books. Because Mr. Smith combines humor with learning, one can always hear laughter coming from Room 225. On Wednesday afternoon he serves as adviser to the Senate, a boys' debating society. In addition to her English classes Miss Boylan is responsible for the production of the yearbook. She acts as moderator for Room 122 where members of the Blue and White staff are continually in the throes of solving momentous issues. Miss Cornell is our peripatetic English teacher (without a home room). Moreover, she is our new guidance counsellor. In the short time she has been with us she has won the esteem of both faculty and the students. On the third floor, in room 314, Miss Dickerman teaches English and Speech, and is the busy adviser to Student Government. Dr. McGuire who instructs the journalism class is the jovial head of the Classical Recorder. Dr. O'Grady, the English teacher in 224, is the competent director of Pierides, the girls' discussion group. Although he is new to the English department, Mr. Purcell, too, is a busy man who never has had a dull moment since he became a junior class adviser. Miss Sauer is also a member of the English department and junior class adviser. Room 119 reflects her pleasant casual manner.

Gathering material for a research paper are (Seated) Joyce Newman, Barbara Shaw. (Standing) Judi Diamond, Sybella Maskel, Douglas Filley, Barbara Plugge, Jon Prothero and Jocelyn Kuehn.

Alan White and Patricia Albano demonstrate the importance of an outline to Annette Stefopoulos, Ruth Thompson, Frances Belcher and Charles Christie.

Three composition techniques are illustrated by Avril Brown, who is writing a playlet; Annette Stefopoulos, who has used a rhetorical question to start her theme; and Cleo Gorman, who prefers to write a letter. Waiting to go to the board are Virginia Douglass, and Douglas Schoolcraft.

THE LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Florence Smith, Miss Isabel Kagwin, Miss Ruth Shaffer, Miss Mildred Auger, (Row 2) Dr. Edna Frederick, Miss Elizabeth Dean, Mrs. Erika Corbin, and Mr. Hyman Tuckman.

Since Classical High School is primarily a college preparatory school, foreign languages are an essential part of the curriculum. This year in addition to Latin, French, German, and Spanish, Hebrew has been added.

Miss Kagwin is both head of the language department and an excellent teacher of French. Miss Auger, who believes in time and space saving devices, teaches both French and Spanish. As a neighbor of the Blue and White homeroom, Mrs. Corbin is constantly reminded of the noisy workers in 122, but in spite of this she is quite successful in introducing students to the mysteries of Latin, Spanish, and French. Dr. Frederick, our new French teacher, has provided many students with pen pals in France. Besides teaching French, Mrs. Smith is our only instructor of German. The new course in Hebrew is taught during the sixth period each day by Mr. Hyman Tuckman, principal of the United Hebrew School. Much credit is due Miss Shaffer and Miss Dean for the excellent preparation given students who wish a thorough foundation in Classical languages.

ENTHUSIASTIC STUDENTS

THE HISTORY TEACHERS

are Mr. George Hargreaves, Mr. Milton Corbin, Mr. David Brown, and Mr. Donald Campbell.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

Classical is privileged to have an outstanding history department. The varied courses are excellent preparation for college besides providing the students with an insight into world affairs—a knowledge of foremost importance in modern times. The courses offered are American History, European History, World History, Ancient History, and Problems of Democracy. Mr. David H. Brown, chairman of the department, stresses in his classes the importance of geography in furthering understanding of history. Another member of the history department, Mr. Donald Campbell, is especially interested in nineteenth century American history. Mr. Milton Corbin displays his interest in history and contemporary world affairs by acting as adviser to the International Relations Club. Mr. George Hargreaves, the newest member of the history department, who came to us from the Citadel, finds English history absorbing.

THE MATHEMATICS TEACHERS

are Mr. Leland W. Smith, Miss Dorothy Parkman, Mrs. Helen Flanagan, Miss Edna Marston, Mr. Donald Hatch.

MATHEMATICS

No doubt everyone realizes the importance of mathematics in the modern world of today. Without mathematics, not even the simplest form of science could be studied effectively. A housewife may need just enough math to be able to add a grocery bill in checking for mistakes. On the other hand, a scientist or engineer may have to learn calculus in order to solve problems vital to his work. Although mathematics can be a very tough subject at times, it is a wise choice because many colleges require three or four years of math for entrance.

At Classical students make the most of their previous training. College preparatory students may elect algebra, geometry, solid geometry and trigonometry. If a student does not need mathematics for college entrance, he may select general mathematics, a very useful course. A class in advanced math on the college level has been offered this year to students of exceptional ability.

Mr. Leland Smith is the chairman of the mathematics staff and the author of "It Pays to Increase Your Number Sense" sheet which has been devised for students preparing for college entrance examinations. Mrs. Flanagan is not only a competent math teacher, but she is also a tutor in the art of knitting to Miss Porter. A new addition to the mathematics department is Mr. Hatch who is kept busy outside of class with ticket sales, and stamp and coin clubs. Miss Marston puts whatever time she has left after teaching math into the Junior Red Cross advisership. Miss Parkman, another efficient mathematician, serves as business manager for the Recorder.

THE SCIENCE TEACHERS

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Classical High School has an excellent science department under the competent direction of Mr. Howard H. Lynch (H₂L). The following courses in science are offered to the students: Biology, Physics, Chemistry, Physiology, and Advanced Physics.

The task of explaining the various complicated formulas in chemistry belongs to Mr. Aleph E. C. Oliver, while Miss Battis and Miss Fitzgerald share the responsibility of teaching biology and physiology. Besides learning about plants, animals, and other living things, biology students dissect worms, grasshoppers, and frogs. The study of the human body included in physiology is taken by upperclass girls. It is the job of Mr. Lynch to teach students physics. Because so many students took physics this year, Mr. Oliver has had to teach a class in physics in addition to chemistry.

"Well, I'll be hanged!" says Mr. Lynch.

THE PHYSIOLOGY STUDENTS

ART

There is a place in the Classical art program for every student whether his interests lie in mathematics, science, or the languages. The main purpose of the art classes is to give students varied art experiences. Each successive course utilizes the knowledge a student has gained from previous classes. Among the courses offered are School Arts Publicity, Basic Art, Advanced Art and Research, and Photography. Every year the art department through the Arts and Crafts Club makes and paints the props for Carousel and posters for publicity. Miss Doris MacKenzie is in charge of the art department at Classical.

MR. VINCENT O'KEEFFE

MR. WARREN AMERMAN

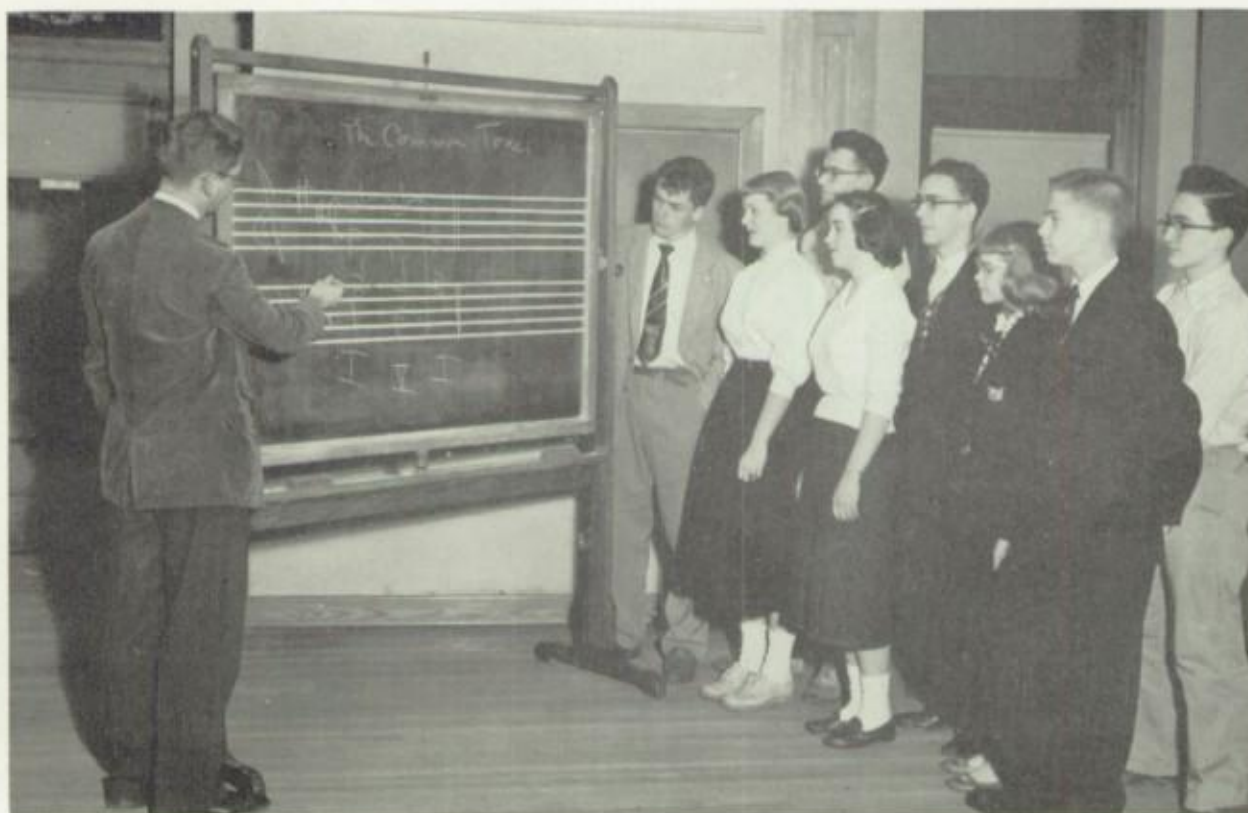

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The music department of Classical High School, under the supervision of Mr. Warren Amerman and Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, offers many programs covering various phases of music. The band directed by Mr. O'Keeffe and the orchestra by Mr. Amerman provide an outlet for students having instrumental ability. The Madrigal Singers, the Choir, the Boys' Chorus, and the Girls' Choruses under the direction of Mr. Warren Amerman offer opportunity for those having vocal talent. Theory and harmony classes also taught by Mr. Amerman attract students interested in musical technique.

MISS DOROTHY PORTER

Typing Department

Miss Dorothy Porter has done outstanding work in putting out several classes of good typists each year. Several good reasons present themselves to students for taking typing. Long English compositions and term papers can be typed in less than half the time it would take to write them out in long-hand. Typewritten papers are more legible too. As an elective, typing is essential to most students and is a skill that can be used for a lifetime.

These five freshmen girls, Patricia Grodsky, Janice Lindblad, Sharon Posner, Loretta Riner, and Joan Sherman are fascinated by the typing speed and accuracy of Michael Mehlman and Lawrence Maier.

THE GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION TEACHERS

are Mrs. Miriam Andrewes, and Miss Joan Mende.

THE BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION TEACHERS

Mr. Donald Vaughn and Mr. Henry Batt, appear to be quite proud of the trophies displayed on the desk.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Because Classical believes that the development of the physical self is essential, a well rounded gym program is provided for the students. While exercise develops the body, sportsmanship is gained through playing games. A gym period in the day breaks up the monotony of constant studying and gives the students a chance to release their excess energy. Physical education brings out skills in students that otherwise might never have been discovered. Many potential members for various teams are found in the gym classes. Top notch instruction is provided for both the boys and girls at Classical, giving the students a pleasure that equals that of no other experience.

Under the supervision of Mr. Vaughn, Driver Education is offered to Classical-ites. Shown here about to depart are Mr. Vaughn, Barbara Kelly, Avril Brown, and Cynthia Gail Sias.

SENIOR MESSAGE

As our three years at Classical come to an end, we are able to look back at what we have accomplished here: growth intellectually and spiritually, participation in extra-curricular activities, friendships with the faculty and fellow students, and preparation for later life. With our high school education now behind us, we look forward to the future with anxious anticipation. At the same time we realize the responsibilities we must soon assume.

Although the paths of our lives may separate, we shall always be united in the thought that the last three years have been memorable ones — years for which we shall always be grateful.

GORDON WOOD
TREASURER

ASHLEY BOONE
MEMBER-AT-LARGE

MISS ELIZABETH DEAN

To the members of the class of 1956,

Perhaps you are weary of being appealed to as the future citizens of our country. My appeal to you is for the present. Paul wrote to Timothy long ago, "Let no man despise your youth." Yet the lack of understanding of our teenagers, the emphasis on juvenile delinquency, and the careless criticism of modern young people would seem to imply that many people today look down on youth.

Those of us who have worked with you, and know, and admire you realize that this indictment of youth represents only a very small part of the entire picture. If we are to judge by the students of Classical High School, and especially by the members of its present Senior Class, we know that the situation is quite different from the one generally painted.

Because you are young, we have so much hope in you. Your vigor, your enthusiasm, your courage, your honesty, and, most of all, your idealism assure us that youth is not a time to be looked down upon, but to be appreciated and honored.

So do not be overly concerned about the future when you will take upon your shoulders the burdens of the world. Look to today. Show the world that youth is not the time of carelessness, thoughtlessness of others, and disregard for our laws and moral standards that many people believe it to be. Be true to the highest principles that we have tried to teach you, to your religious faith, to those who have so much confidence in you, and above all else, to the best that is in each of you. To the extent that you do this, you will make youth a glorious and noble time.

My best wishes go with each one of you,

ELIZABETH DEAN
Adviser

Your freshman year was a freshman year for me as well, since it marked my first term as a class adviser. Our association has been a rich one for me. From the beginning, you proved to be a class of vision, choosing your officers with care and wisdom, and under their leadership, acting resourcefully and courageously. It was therefore no accident that you organized the first successful Freshman Dance which Classical had seen for some years. In other matters, you have been equally successful throughout your three years at Classical.

It is with some sadness that I see you leave us. I shall remember your many kindnesses as individuals and as a class. I wish you all good things, all happiness, all success, and all joy in the years to come.

WARREN AMERMAN
Adviser

MR. WARREN AMERMAN

MRS. ERIKA CORBIN

It has been a most pleasant experience serving as adviser of your class. You showed remarkably good judgment in the choice of your officers and committees and co-operated with them most effectively. I marveled at the manner in which your plans were formulated and brought to fruition with apparent unconcern but with a high degree of efficiency.

As you conclude your high school education and move on to other fields of endeavor my best wishes go with you. May you explore all avenues of self-expression, but never to the detriment of others. May you find happiness in your associations and satisfaction in your life's work. May you be a force for good in your community and an ever ready help to those in need. Thus your life will have meaning in the fullest sense of the word.

ERIKA J. CORBIN
Adviser

CLASS HISTORY

September, 1953 — June, 1954

Dear Diary,

My goodness! Our first year in high school, and what a year it was! We'll never forget Freshie Day and the crazy things those upperclassmen made us do. We were so scared! But that night the G.A.A. sponsored the Harvest Hop in our honor, which made everything all right. The upperclassmen had class officers; so we elected some too. Howie Ledewitz was President; Harvey Mazer, Vice President; Sue Penney, Secretary; Gordon Wood, Treasurer; and Judi Diamond, Member-At-Large. They did a wonderful job getting us started, for we know you'll have to admit that blue, grey, and white look pretty sharp on our class banner — and those beautiful rings — oh my! Our class wasn't the only class that was busy. Why the whole school was just buzzing with activity all year long.

In the fall our football team made its formidable appearance and displayed amazing sportsmanship in letting every one of its opponents walk away with honors. Think of that! And in January, almost everyone had something to do with the fourth annual production of Carousal. "We're from Texas" was just the greatest! At Christmas time and in the spring, the music groups put on some fabulous performances too. We'll never forget "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Why they sang that so well that everyone broke out in goose bumps!

Yes sir! Our class really made itself known right away. Why we put on the best dance Classical Freshmen have had in seven years — the Hep Cat Hop. But now it's June, and can you believe it — we're juniors!

September, 1954 — June, 1955

Dear Diary,

Well, I want to tell you — this year was by far the best yet! After all, this was the year for our first prom, and we were certainly excited! Our class officers, with Sue Myler the new member-at-large, formed committees for the prom right away. Practically everyone started saving for new gowns and corsages in the Bulldog Savings Bank, which, by the way, was the first of its kind in the country! (Naturally, another Classical first!) Oh my gracious! Were we ever good in sports! The football team — uh — played football, but our hockey team became the Western Massachusetts Champions. Carousal was pretty special this year too, with our very own Barbara Kelly in the leading roll of "Bermuda Bound."

The Blue and White and the Recorder both took high honors at the W.M.L.S.P. Convention in Amherst at the University of Massachusetts. Oh yes! Something really funny happened in April. The Recorder, our school paper, announced the news that Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles would honor Classical High School at the graduation exercises, and that the teachers would don caps and gowns for the occasion. It was hard to believe that it was an April Fool's joke!

With the help of our advisers, Mrs. Erika Corbin, Miss Elizabeth Dean, and Mr. Warren Amerman, our Junior Prom, "Stairway to the Stars", was a great success. It was held on April 29, and Sue Penney reigned as its queen with her court of Gail Peters and Carol Huettnner. It was just a beautiful sight to behold. In May, it happened! Classical was attacked by "The Pirates of Penzance." It wasn't serious though because it was just another performance of our music groups, this time in the form of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta. (Aren't we talented — operettas and everything!)

At the end of the year various members of our class received awards for their outstanding abilities. Herbert Wolf, Janet McIntosh, and Howard Ledewitz took the Harvard, Radcliffe, and Williams Book Prizes, and Fred James won the Third Year French Prize. During Brotherhood week, Leroy Best received a watch and citation from the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Ohhhh! We were so proud of them all. Well, it's the end of the year and that makes us seniors. It hardly seems possible!

September, 1955 — June, 1956

Dear Diary,

Where has the time flown? It just doesn't seem fair that this, our last year in high school should go by so fast. It's been a wonderful year too! Boy! You should have seen the fun we had on Freshie Day! I wonder if the new Freshmen were as scared as we were? Oh well! We kept the same class officers, except that Ashley Boone became member-at-large. They got all our class committees started early so we could have plenty of time to write up our history, and decide what to leave and to whom in the Class Will.

This really seemed to be the year for awards. Gail Peters got the D.A.R. award, and many people in our class were awarded scholarships. The football team really looked good this year too, and won several games. The soccer team tied for the Western Massachusetts title, while the hockey team fought hard as the defending champions. Steve Kinsman, and Leroy Best helped put the basketball team at the top of the Interscholar league. Leo Best even got a huge trophy for being the top scorer in this area!

In the fall the Choir staged a big carnival to raise money for choir robes. That was loads of fun and all who went had a great time. The music groups really sounded wonderful at the Christmas and Spring Concerts — as usual! Carousal was even more terrific this year than ever before — if you can imagine it! It was called "Straw Hat Summer" and was a great success.

The last part of this year was the best part! It was a little sad though. We had our Class Banquet on May 29 followed by a dance. Class Day and the planting of the ivy came next. And then the Senior Prom on June 5th. It was just terrific! Why we were so tired when we finally got home that we could have slept for a week! But then on June 14 we graduated. That was the most wonderful night in our lives. It was the end of our high school days but just the beginning of the best years of our lives. There are so many things to do and so many moments to remember.

In Memoriam

BERNICE ZOGRY

As our graduation approaches, we recall with heartfelt sorrow the tragic passing of Bernice Zogry. In the past two years that Nissa has not been with us, her warm smile and friendly personality have been an inspiring remembrance. We are thankful for having had her companionship and for the sweet memories that she left behind.

May God grant everlasting peace to the soul of Bernice Zogry.

MR. CLIFFORD MOULTHROP

The foregoing senior album section had gone to press when the staff of the Blue and White lost a genial and valuable guide in the person of Mr. Clifford Moulthrop of the Whittum Printing Co. His sudden passing on February 23 was hard to accept as a reality, for only a short time before he was fatally stricken, he was exchanging pleasantries with the staff members in room 122.

Difficult as it is for us to realize that he is no longer among us, we are consoled by the many pleasant memories we have of him. We shall always remember his laughter, his cautious opening of the door in 122, his repartee, and his bubbling good nature. We remember how patient he was with us when we made mistakes or failed to meet a deadline. We recall his indulgence toward us on many occasions when we wanted what our purse could not buy. His gentle prodding was largely responsible for our having completed much of our copy by March 1, and we shall ever be grateful for the assistance he gave us in planning this 1956 edition of the Blue and White.

Were it possible to have an honorary member of the class of 1956, the staff of the Blue and White would certainly nominate "Jack" Moulthrop.

May God grant him eternal rest.

THE CLASS OF "57"

The junior year of the Class of 1957 has been a very eventful one. By taking part in almost every extra-curricular activity, the juniors have gained a well-earned reputation for assiduity. The Junior Prom, under the leadership of Peter Roth, was a complete success. Its presentation was accomplished by the coordination of the many prom committees which were organized under the supervision of the class advisers. The production of "Carousel" boasted a cast of many juniors, some of whom had leading roles. This year, under the patient guidance of able advisers, the Class of 1957 have made great strides in many fields. Regarding achievements with pride, each member looks forward with confidence to a successful senior year.

“What’s Going On Here?”

A freshman, wandering by room 227 one day, glanced in curiously and bewildered by the confusion innocently inquired, “Is this a student-controlled study hall?” What this student saw was the outward turmoil of a complex machine known as the Recorder staff busily engaged in publishing a paper.

In trying to write and produce a newspaper, one must decide on certain formats. The staff would like to inform Classical students what these formats of the paper are, in short, to reveal “What’s Going On Here.” The members of the sports staff have tried, both to gather interesting and colorful material and to present this information in an informal style but to avoid frequent use of “sports” jargon.” The editorial writers have tried to select pertinent material for their editorials and to write them in a manner that would hold the students’ attention and uphold the fine quality of this paper’s writing. In writing Tally Ho!, the two Recorder feature writers wanted to present amusing and imaginative material. Reporters of the Grab Bag had as their goal, a column that would display subjects of many various fields in an eye-catching manner. In the Student of the Month column, the writer wished to avoid using the trite and often uninteresting alumni news and instead, to offer small articles that would give worthwhile information to the readers. On the news page, it has been the desire of the reporters to find subjects of importance and present them in a pleasing manner. The staff, as a whole, has tried most diligently to preserve and carry on the fine traditions and high standards of the Classical Recorder.

Maria Dakis makes the first sale to Barbara Harmetz while William Oulette, Judith Moylan, and Leroy Hershberger scan the lunchroom for possible prospects.

Proudly displaying the Recorder's many awards are two members of the staff, Barbara Rustein and Joyce Newman.

Gordon Wood, Burton Danet, Barbara Rustein, Ruth Burzynski, Susan Kinsburg, Richard Paveglio, and Sue Penney check the dummy before sending it to the printer.

Avril Brown, Robert Eldridge, Margaret Maybury, and Sylvia Blouin proudly pose with the yearbook awards from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and from the Western Massachusetts League of Publications.

SCENE I

Setting: It is a day in January at Classical High School in room 122, workshop for the yearbook staff. It would be useless to tell how the furniture is arranged for it is constantly on the move. At the right of the room, a quiet (?) discussion (?) is going on among members of the staff.

Peggy: What do you mean you haven't got that page laid out? I asked you to do it long ago.

Doug: Can I help it if Gail didn't get the picture taken in time?

Gail: Did I hear my name mentioned?

Peggy: Yes! Doug says you're responsible for this page not being ready because you didn't take the picture on time.

Gail: Well, is it my fault if Bob didn't make the appointment with me until just last week?

Bob: It certainly isn't my fault! I just forgot to make the appointment because I had so much to do. Can't a person forget once in a while?

Sylvia: Come on now, kids. Stop arguing about it and get it done. At this rate we'll never meet our deadline.

SCENE II

Setting: A day in February in the same room 122, but its occupants are in a much greater turmoil. Everyone is talking at once, and now and then a few remarks are heard above the din.

Marty: Where's that proof? I had it a minute ago.

Barbara: Anybody want anything typed?

Trudy: Who took my ruler?

Doug: Give me a chance to use the paper cutter.

Avril: How can I get my section pasted up if Bill keeps using the paste to try to stick Doug to a chair?

Janet: Quiet everybody! I'm trying to draw a cover design.

Miss Boylan: Bill, get off that desk unless you weigh less than 100 pounds.

(Bill quickly gets off.)

Peggy: Oh, I wonder if the book is worth all this fuss?

SCENE III

Setting: A day in June in room 122. Everything is quiet except, of course, the members of the staff. Carol is looking out the door, hoping to see some excitement.

Carol: Hey gang! Here comes the printer with the finished yearbook. Wow! The cover looks terrific!

Doug: Get out of the way, here I come!

Avril: Let me see the senior section.

Sylvia: Oh, it's beautiful, the best book ever!

Peggy: It was well worth every bit of work. And we'll all have to admit that we had our share of the fun.

All: We certainly did!

Discussing the cover design are the art editors, Janet Thrasher and Allen Hitchcock.

Quietly (?) arguing over the senior picture arrangement are Carol Cruess, Janet Thrasher, Ed Harrison, Fred Mazer, Allen Hitchcock, and Gertrude Lowell.

Indispensable to the yearbook staff are the typists, Gertrude Lowell and Barbara Garini.

" 'Tis pleasure to see one's name in print."

"The pen became a clarion."

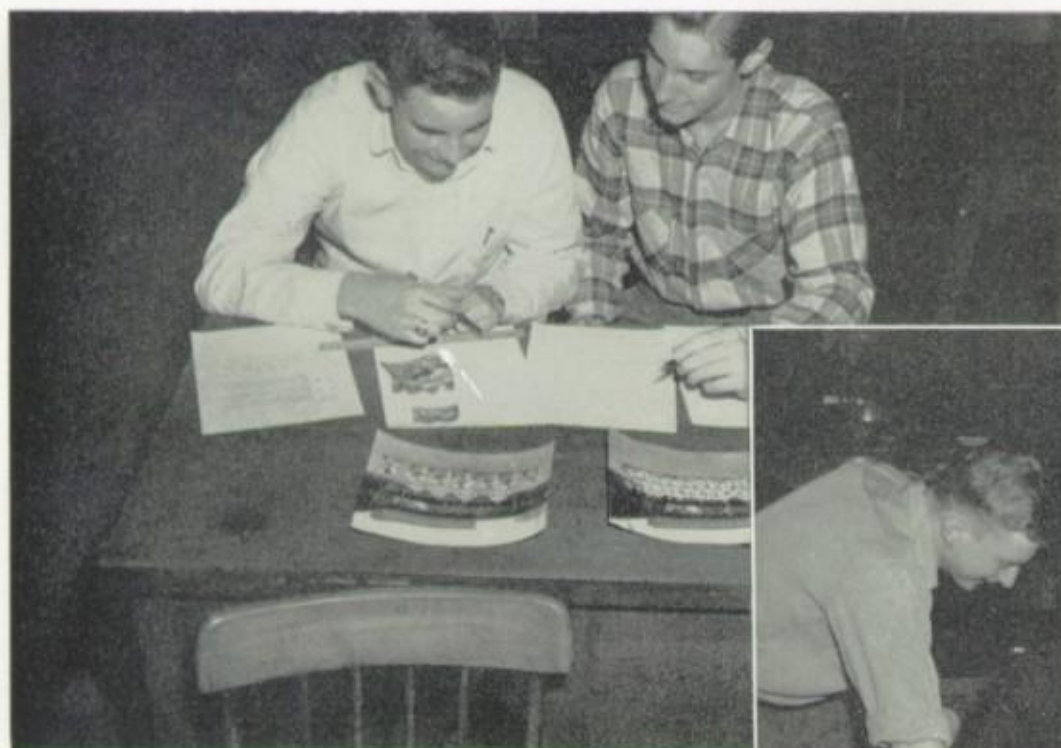

LONGFELLOW

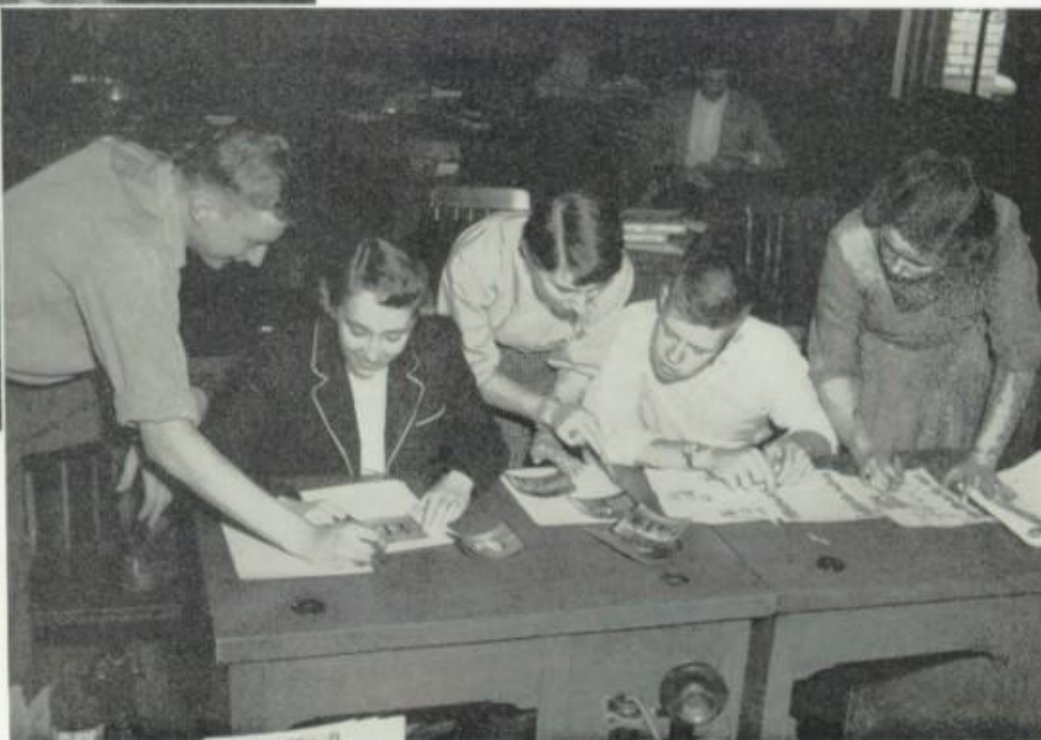

Posing with Mr. Wright, the photographer, are (seated) Miss Teresa Boylan and Peggy Maybury, and (standing) Leone Casey, Sylvia Blouin, and Gail Ryan.

Cheered on by Ed Harrison, Tic Tac Toe Champion Jerry Hakes adds another game to his long list of victories, much to the despair of Bill Sanders.

Back at work are Bill Sanders and Ed Harrison as they arrange the football page.

Diagonal periods are work periods for members of the Blue and White staff. Here, planning picture arrangements, are Bob Eldridge, Sylvia Blouin, Peggy Maybury, Doug Filley, and Avril Brown.

The Blue and White agents and their alternates take orders for the yearbook in their homerooms. This year the agents were (Row 1) Janet Chapin, Sandra Baird, Heather Muir, Alice Wilcox, Miriam Lear, Ann Siano, Judith Willis, Denise Poulin, and Barbara Levine, (Row 2) Suzanne Boyd, Dorothy Moran, Patricia Crenshaw, Gail Bass, Hilda Ruth Fannick, James Craig, John Davis, and John Johnson, (Row 3) Donna Rodenhizer, Barbara Kelly, Alice Makara, Marie Mercoline, Gertrude Lowell, Phyllis Bly, and Eleanor Kushner, (Row 4) Ruth Thompson, Helaine Cohn, Maureen Fitzgerald, Leone Casey, Susan Freidenman, Cynthia Hall, Suzanne Hurd, and Judith Moylan, and (Row 5) Ann Zimmerman, Wayne Lynch, Edward Shine, Doris Goodlatte, Eleanor Rosenthal, and Sharon Posner.

Working extra hard this year, the members of the Blue and White advertising staff boosted considerably their number of ads. The members of the staff were (Row 1) Robert Glass, Robert Romejko, Ronald Mullett, Noel Edelson, and Charles Christie, (Row 2) Richard Gordon, Constance Ledger, Leo Petit, and Elaine Bresnahan, (Row 3) Douglas Filley, Stanley Zwirn, and Bruce Heafitz.

ORCHESTRA

The Classical High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Warren Amerman, has completed another successful year. The performance of this fine instrumental organization pleased audiences at the annual winter and spring concerts and at several school assemblies throughout the year. In addition, our orchestra, in commemoration of American Education Week, was chosen to present a five-minute recorded broadcast over radio station WJKO.

Classical High School is proud to have the only high school orchestra in the city, and one of the finest of the few in Western Massachusetts. As all those who had the pleasure of hearing the fine music of these talented musicians will agree, the extra effort Mr. Amerman put into the development of this group was worthwhile.

THE BAND

Under the supervision of our new director, Mr. Vincent O'Keeffe, the Classical High School Band has completed another successful year. At most of our football and basketball games, the sparkling music of this small but spirited organization added to the excitement of the games and the enjoyment of the spectators. In addition, the band has promoted school spirit at several pep rallies throughout the year.

The baton twirlers repeated their performance of last year and successfully entertained audiences with their intricate routines done to the music of the band at numerous games and rallies.

FRESHMAN GIRLS' CHORUS

GIRLS' CHORUSES

Both the Freshman Girls' Chorus and the Upper-class Girls' Chorus form an integral part of the musical system at Classical. Under the direction of Mr. Amerman, the girls are trained in the fundamentals of music in preparation for activity in the advanced music groups.

At the Christmas and Spring concerts, the girls have an opportunity to demonstrate the musical technique which they have developed through singing with the choruses.

UPPERCLASS GIRLS' CHORUS

THE MALE CHORUS

The Male Chorus offers freshmen boys, who are not eligible for the more advanced music groups, and many upperclassmen an occasion to prepare for singing in larger groups in subsequent years.

The membership in this group is open without audition to all boys who enjoy good music.

At the winter and spring concerts, the boys, besides presenting solo performances, also augment the other choral groups in the large mixed chorus.

THE A-CAPPELLA CHOIR

Another successful year has been completed by the mixed choir under the direction of Mr. Amerman. One of the finest high school vocal groups in Springfield, our choir has pleased audiences at the annual winter and spring concerts, and at several music assemblies throughout the year.

This talented organization hopes to be the first high school choir in Springfield to be completely outfitted in choir robes. The funds for the handsome gowns have been raised by various affairs throughout the year sponsored by the choir. One of their outstanding events of the year was the novel and successful "Carnival." The numerous games and concessions at the Carnival were prepared for the enjoyment of all by the members of the G. A. A., the I. R. C., the Student Government, the Blue and White, the Science Club, and the entire music department.

Caroling reminds us of Christmas; and at Classical, Christmas and caroling remind us of the Madrigal singers. Here, in a holiday mood, are (Row 1) Ann Staniski, Agnes Biscotti, Mary Rose Henrich, Virginia Settle, and Jerry Hakes, (Row 2) Richard Margolis, Linda Sennstrom, Annette Stefopolous, Sylvia Blouin, and Dave Clinton.

MADRIGAL SINGERS

At Classical, the elite of the music department is the Madrigal Group, the twenty members of which constitute the best of the vocal section. An unusual feature of the 1955 group is that it includes two freshmen among its members. As a rule, only juniors and seniors are selected.

The Singers entertain local civic and church organizations with a diverse repertoire of music ranging from sixteenth-century contrapuntal compositions to twentieth-century George Gershwin.

Moreover, the group constitutes an essential part of the Christmas and Spring Concerts, singing both alone and with the Choir.

Highlighting this year was a two day trip the group made to Montclair, New Jersey, where the Singers were entertained by another Madrigal Group from Montclair High School. Later the New Jersey musicians visited Springfield, as the guests of the Classical Madrigal Group.

The Pirates of Penzance, an operetta by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented on three nights in May by the music department under the direction of Mr. Warren Amerman. The charm of this operetta was faithfully conveyed to the audience by the cast, chorus, and orchestra. Barbara Dahl made a beautiful Mabel; Peter Carando, the handsome and dutiful lover, Frederick; Harrison Dolan, the fiery Pirate King; Francis Donovan, the hilarious Major General Stanley; Barbara Kelley, as the deceitful Nurse Ruth; Jerry Hakes, as the timorous Sergeant of Police; Clifford Jackson, as the Pirate King's Lieutenant Samuel; and Maureen Taylor, Arlene Cohen, and Judi Moylan, as Major General Stanley's three wards, Kate, Isabel, and Mabel. Alternate leads were Jerry Hakes as Samuel; Robert Eldridge as the Sergeant of Police; Kay Le Van as Edith; and Bette Hostettler as Ruth.

A chorus of nearly 225 students and an orchestra of 42 instruments supported the principals throughout the three performances. Accompanists for the three evenings were Ann Staniski and Mary Ann Carlson.

"Oh, do not leave me!"

PIERIDES

PIERIDES

Pierides Alpha has an admirable reputation to live up to — that of being the oldest organization at Classical, as well as one of the best. In this club, freshmen, junior, and senior girls participate in literary discussions, formal and informal debates, and sponsor speakers.

At the first meeting this year, the officers were elected as follows: Holly Pieper, President; Lois Blitzer, Vice-President; Rochelle Solin, Secretary-Treasurer; Susan Burack, Program Chairman.

One of the best attended meetings took place in October in the form of a discussion between the Senate and Pierides.

An outstanding winter meeting was held at which Mr. Amerman spoke on several aspects of music — both popular and classical. To illustrate his points,

Mr. Amerman played records making his talk interesting and entertaining.

In February, a formal debate was held on a current problem — Federal Aid to Education.

In March, three delegates, Holly Pieper, Susan Erlich, and Pat Albano, attended the sixth annual A.I.C. Model Congress. They submitted a bill on federal aid for education.

The April meeting was devoted to a series of talks by seniors on the colleges which they were planning to attend in September. In May, the Phillips Prize Speaking Contest, a very popular annual affair was held, to decide the two best speakers in Pierides.

All in all, the organization enjoyed a well-rounded year.

SENATE

If you hear a heated debate as you pass Room 215 after school on alternate Wednesdays, don't be alarmed. It's just the Classical High School Senators discussing some very controversial subject. At each meeting the members devote themselves to discussing some topic of interest to all. This year the Senate has tackled such problems as The Dropping of the Atom Bomb on Japan, Extra Sensory Perception, Progressive Education, and Federal Aid to Education.

It is needless to say that parliamentary procedure is used during meetings, with the President, or, in his absence, the Vice-President taking charge. The Secretary records the minutes of the meeting and attendance; the Member-at-Large posts meeting notices and expels any Senior who does not conduct himself properly.

The A.I.C. Model Congress is represented by Classical Senators each year. At the end of the year the four best debators argue in the Senate Tablet Debate, the winner of which has his name inscribed on a marble tablet.

The invaluable aid and counsel of Mr. Edwin Smith, the faculty adviser, is necessary to keep things running smoothly. The officers of the club are as follows: President, Peter Krokidas; Vice-President, Mario Sakillis; Secretary, Stephen Metz; Member-at-Large, Robert Glass.

"As many men, so many minds."

"All free governments are managed by the combined wisdom and folly of the people."

JAMES GARFIELD

The officers of Student Government are Susan Burack, Secretary; Bruce Rosenberg, President; Steve Metz, Parliamentarian; Janet McIntosh, Vice-President; Keith Bradley, Treasurer; and Miss Ruth Dickerman, Adviser.

STUDENT POLITICS

Student Government, an organization composed of seven Seniors, seven Juniors, and six Freshmen, is responsible for many programs and activities at Classical High School. The group is divided into the following committees: School Spirit, Activities, French Affiliation, Store and Properties, Student of the Month. The adviser is Miss Dickerman.

Some of the activities which Student Government has sponsored are the Student Treasury Drive, Freshmen Elections, Activities Assembly for Freshmen, Carousel, and a booth at the Choir Carnival. Representatives have attended a Scholarship Conference at A.I.C. and a convention of the Western Massachusetts Association of Student Governments. The Student Government has organized the Student-Controlled Study Hall and the Lost and Found Department. This year revisions have been made in the Constitution and the Election Rules. An exchange program with another school is planned.

Student Treasury is a fund to which each student who buys a Student Treasury ticket contributes. In return he derives many benefits from his contribution.

To the student who owns a Student Treasury ticket comes the benefit of a reduction in the cost of tickets for interschool games, school productions, and the Blue and White. He also receives the Recorder free, has no class dues to pay, and if he has been a member of S.T. for three years, is able to attend the class banquet at no cost. Finally, the Student Treasury aids our school teams in transportation, and also sponsors the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Mr. Howard Lynch, Mr. David Brown, and Mr. Leland Smith are the advisers.

STUDENT PATROLS

Interested in Girls' Patrol? The Girls' Patrol consists of twenty-six junior and senior girls who are honorable, trustworthy, scholarly, courteous, friendly, and leaders in their class. Each girl is willing to perform a duty asked of her at any time. The girls keep order in the girls' room, take duty at the Information Desk, and on the stairs, help maintain order in the lunchroom, give their services to the counselors whenever needed, help with the eye and ear tests, and assist the nurse throughout the day. At the end of the school year new members are added to replace the seniors who are leaving. These girls must be highly recommended by all their teachers and be voted upon by the Patrol itself. Miss Shaffer is the present adviser, replacing Miss Lewis who served for many years.

Ever since it was founded in 1924, the Boys' Patrol has been an integral part of Classical High School. Its function therein is undeniably important: directing traffic on the stairways; keeping order in the lunchroom; signing passes in the halls and in the boys' basement; making the master key available to those who need it; and taking special duties at P.T.S.A. meetings, at graduation, and at the Junior and Senior Proms. There are thirty-two boys in the patrol — a squad ably advised by Mr. Donald Campbell.

The 1956 production of the Classical Carousel was entitled Straw Hat Summer. The plot concerned the problems of the impoverished Carousel-by-the-Sea Summer Stock Company. The leading characters in the musical comedy were Julie Jefferson, a young actress of the company, played by Carol Zimmerman; Craig Campbell, a well-to-do exchange student from Scotland, portrayed by Leslie Smith; Melvin Galsworthy, a phoney millionaire-philanthropist, played by Jon Brown; Venus Schnitzle, Melvin Galsworthy's secretary, played by Barbara Kelly; Eustacia Borringhus, the elocution teacher of the company, played by Elaine Thomas; Ichabod Twibble, the director's rather simple right-hand man, portrayed by Keith Bradley; and Gregory Smirnoff, the director of the company, played by Gilbert Black. An interesting and enjoyable addition to the show this year was the acting of some faculty members. Dr. Rodeheaver, Mr. Lynch, Miss Dickerman, and Miss Mende were enthusiastically applauded as the mysterious "Greek Chorus."

Other members of the summer stock company were played by Lois Blitzer, Harriet Thal, Bonnie Davis, Gordon Wood, Stanley Zwirn, Edward Lemberg, and Jon Prothero.

The entire performance was produced by the students of Classical High School. Frances Burack, assisted by Robert Glass, did fine work in directing and managing the show. Nancy Heyman, assisted by Mimi Jacobs, coached the dancers and the chorus lines.

After months of work on the part of the student committees a creditable performance of Straw Hat Summer was presented on February 9, 10, 11 in the Classical High School Auditorium.

"Now, let's get the beat." Bill Wurtzel, Lorence Queen, Elaine Thomas, Bob Whitehead, Burt Scannapieco, Ev Webb, Ed Abert, Grant Heggie, Ashley Boone, Bill Fourtier, Nancy Heyman, Paul Beck, Wayne Girouard, and Harvey Mazer.

Gilbert faints in the arms of Keith Bradley and Elaine Thomas.

THE ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB

One of the most active clubs in the school is the Arts and Crafts Club directed by Miss Doris R. MacKenzie. Teachers and students meet every Tuesday afternoon to experiment in the field of art. This informal club is primarily a working group with emphasis on creation and not on organization. Its only officer is Valerie Burnham whose job is to take care of any correspondence or purchases that must be made. With the money raised through the annual mistletoe sale the club plans to buy a jewelry worker's drill and other small tools. For the most part, however, the club is self-supporting and each member buys his own supplies.

This year members of the club have worked with enameled jewelry, ceramic tiles, and pottery. The results of their craftsmanship is proof of the proficient technique of each member of the Arts and Crafts Club.

The Arts and Crafts Club members are:

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club was organized five years ago under the guidance of Mr. Howard Lynch. In its original constitution, the aims of the Science Club were formulated: "To promote the general use of science in our daily lives, and to further the advance of science in our minds, community, and world."

The prime purpose of the Science Club during the school year, 1955 and 1956, has been to prepare exhibits for the science fair held in April. Some of the exhibits which students submitted were a solar reflector, a perpetual motion clock, and an ultrasonic generator.

THE STAMP AND COIN CLUB

Approximately fifteen members compose the Stamp and Coin Club of Classical High School. Merging these two clubs helps to teach the stamp collector a little about coins, and the coin collector, a little about stamps. Stamp and Coin Packets have been sent in previous years to Armed Service and the Shrine Hospitals. They bring much pleasure to the patients by breaking up the monotony of their day and giving them something to do. This will be done again this year.

The club is organized under parliamentary procedure with Mr. Hatch as the adviser. The officers are as follows: President, Robert Friedman; Vice-President, James Rheinhold; Treasurer, Joseph Brusnicki; and Secretary, Roy Wright.

The Classical Chess Club was organized in 1954, and for three seasons has presented the students of Classical with an opportunity to learn the oldest of all games. This season the club has been able to awaken new interest in the royal game of chess by providing fun and experience for its members.

Some of the most outstanding events of the year have been the meets with the Y.M.C.A. Chess Club, which is made up entirely of adults. In December the club held a tournament to determine the best players in the organization. These players afterwards composed the team which represented Classical at many ensuing meets.

Without the aid of an adviser, the members completed a full program for the year. A tournament with the Technical High School Chess Club, the only other club of this kind in the city, concluded their activities.

The officers of the year were Ralph Guertin, President; William Tinti, Vice-President; and Lawrence Runsdorf, Secretary-Treasurer.

P. T. S. A.

It may seem like ancient history to some people, but it is interesting to know that the first P.T.A. meeting was held in Classical High School (then Central High School), on April 28, 1925. However, in the fall of 1943, it was decided that the participation of the students was needed to make a stronger and closer association—thus began the P.T.S.A. and at that time the only one. Since then our P.T.S.A. has become an active and progressive organization, the students being an important link.

An active year started with College Conferences on October 13 and 14 with Dr. Chatto, Dr. Rodeheaver and the counselors on hand with all the necessary information about colleges. Open House on November 8 was very encouraging to the P.T.S.A., because it was exceptionally well-attended. As the parents followed their son's or daughter's classes, they enjoyed meeting the teachers and learning of the schedules which the teachers had planned for the students. After the classes were over, the parents were rewarded with refreshments, and they thought, "School was never like this."

A successful rummage sale in November, and a cake sale in March raised funds for the scholarships to be awarded Classical Students this year. Dr. Olive S. Niles, the new co-ordinator of the public school reading program was the highlight of the March 13 meeting, and Activities Night was held May 14 for the ninth grade students planning to enter Classical and their families to learn about the many school activities. Then in between these meetings and executive board meetings, the P.T.S.A. co-operated with the music department in raising money for choir robes. All in all, it was a good year and everyone had fun.

Members of the P.T.S.A. Board are: Row 1: Mrs. Buffington, Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Nienhuys, Mrs. Maybury, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Luippold, Mrs. Bemis, Miss Dickerman—Row 2: Gail Turner, Holly Peiper, Dr. Rodeheaver, Mrs. Cruess, Mrs. Kimball, Patricia Knox, Joanne Mayer, Dr. Chatto—Row 3: Ashley Boone, Mr. Finn, Wayne Lynch, Robert Eldridge.

Officers of the Bulldog Savings Bank are Dorothy Kerzner, Vice-President; Marlene Stein, Secretary; J. Everett Webb, Jr., President; Avis Neigher, Trustee; and James Reinhold, Treasurer.

THE BULLDOG SAVINGS BANK

For the second consecutive year, the Bulldog Savings Bank, a Junior Achievement Company, was operated here at Classical. The Bank is run by twelve students with advisory aid from the Springfield Institution for Savings, their sponsoring body. It has been extremely successful, opening 405 accounts and receiving $13,462 on deposit which has been invested in several types of securities. Besides providing a convenient place for saving, the Bank also earns money for the students in the form of interest. Its main function, however, is to promote systematic savings among the student body. Because of its outstanding achievement, the Bank won the Regional Banking Award. The success of the Bulldog Savings Bank led to the opening of three other banks at Technical, Commerce, and Longmeadow High Schools.

Judy Weigold, Lois Sims, Gail Rosenbloom, and Avril Brown think "Parting is such sweet sorrow!"

Advisers from the Springfield Institution for Savings are Mrs. Vivian Hale, Mr. William Blossom, Mr. Robert Cross, and Mr. Walter Cushman.

CHEERLEADERS

When a Classicalite thinks of a sunny smile and ever-lasting energy plus heaps of school spirit, there is no doubt but he is thinking of one of our Classical cheerleaders. These eight peppy misses are very familiar to loyal spectators of Bulldog teams. Wherever a Classical team is playing, the cheerleaders are sure to be found cheering them on to victory.

In school as well as at the games, the girls keep busy. Homeroom periods are spent at "pep rallies" or in the gym creating and learning new cheers and improving those which are already established as Classical tradition.

Substitutes, Gertrude Lowell, Brenda Miller, and Judith Phaneuf, are always ready to aid the cheerleaders, who play a major part in making the Bulldogs "the team that is always on top."

STUDENT LEADERS

A great asset to the physical education department is its fine group of student leaders. Mrs. Andrewes and Miss Mende find these senior girls most valuable in assisting them demonstrate, teach, and organize.

In class, the girls divide into small groups under the direction of a student leader. Through this friendly association, both the student leader and her charges develop their gymnastic skills as well as a new-found friendship.

Student leaders are chosen for their outstanding leadership, citizenship, and scholarship in addition to skill in physical education. The group during this past year has certainly maintained these high standards.

On October 11, "freshies" were seen about the corridors donned in a most unusual fashion while toting extraordinarily lofty piles of books. There was no doubt. It was Freshie Day. Our "freshies" were good sports and with unuttered defiance made a pretense of being charmed at their own antics.

Later, in more conventional attire, the new crop of victims joined their tormentors at the annual Harvest Hop, all having taken solemn oaths to make subsequent freshmen equally happy.

Tennis practice under the direction of Mrs. Andrewes, was held this fall on Mondays and Wednesdays at Forest Park. These practices become a help as well as a pleasure to increasingly more prospective tennis players each season. No competition was played as the tournament, started late in the season, was cancelled because of weather conditions. Classical girls played tennis for their own enjoyment and to improve their skill.

On Mondays and Wednesdays this fall, Classical field hockey enthusiasts trooped up to the Armory carrying shin guards and sticks. Under the direction of Miss Mende, the girls practiced the basic skills of the game and held inter-team competition as practice for "Play Day" on October 26. As a result of this faithful and diligent drilling, the girls, sparked by seniors Gail Robinson, Sally Kinsman, Eleanor Ardoff, and Anne Wood, won in competition at the inter-school "Play Day."

BASKETBALL

Classicalites have always enjoyed this sport native to their own city. Though the rules have changed a great deal, the pleasure derived from the game has not diminished.

This season well attended practice sessions were held twice each week until Christmas vacation. After the holiday, teams were formed and placed in leagues. Les Etoiles with Sally Kinsman as captain; The Flashes with Judith Lunden; and the Jaguars, whose captain was Ann Siano, won the round robin tournament. Miss Mende and Mrs. Andrewes directed the competition.

A basketball Play Day ended the girls' basketball season on February 1. Teams from Classical, Commerce, Longmeadow, and Technical high schools competed and Classical was victor with a total of twenty-two points to their credit. Much of the credit for this outstanding playing is due to such seniors as Sally Kinsman, Anne Wood, Patricia Knox, Frances Belcher, and Ann and Nan Zimmerman.

BOWLING

Three tournaments in one season kept bowlers at Classical very busy practicing and playing each Wednesday at the Chestnut Bowl. Directed by Mrs. Andrewes and Mr. Batt, Classical bowlers held an intramural girls' bowling tournament, and a mixed round robin tournament, while those boys who were also members of the varsity squad played in the city tournament. Such outstanding seniors as Eleanor Ardoff, Patricia Albano, Jon Prothero, Leo Petit, and Leroy Hershberger will be missed during bowling season next year, but many promising freshmen will join the juniors to form new more-skilled teams.

GOLF 1955

The 1955 Classical linkmen wound up their season sporting a 7 - 3 - 1 record. The team was coached by Donald Vaughan, who again showed his ability to bring home a winner.

Sparked by Dave Barry and Ted Sandquist, the 1955 squad boasted such men as Bob Bontempo, Sherwood Stone, Neal Herbert, Alex Zurowski, and Mike Megliola.

With their home links at Franconia, the team started out as if they were going to win everything in sight, racking up six victories in their first six matches. The only team to give the Bulldogs any trouble was Tech that vanquished the Vaughanmen twice in league play, 13 - 2 and 13½ - 11½. In the Western Massachusetts Tournament the Tigers continued their mastery over the Classical linkmen, with Tech and Classical finishing one - two.

TENNIS 1955

The 1955 Classical tennis team, under the tutelage of Coach Don Vaughan, hung up their rackets at the end of the season sporting a healthy 8-3 record.

The squad was co-captained by Bob Coonan and George Torrey, and ably supported by Dick Young, Jon Prothero, Noel Edelson, Peter Roth, Gerald Horowitz, Gerald Steinberg, Phil Schreiber, Bob Glass, Howard Shapiro, Lynn Kanowith, Norman Epstein, Ronald Burke, Miles Thompson, Bob Merhar, and Allan Hayes.

The Bulldogs started the season off right by outlasting Wilbraham Academy, 5-4. Dropping the next two matches by an identical score of 4-5 to the Springfield College Freshmen, the Vaughanmen eased past Westfield, 4-0; dropped another 4-5 squeaker to Wilbraham; and then posted four straight shutouts. Finally, Holyoke broke the scoring ice in dropping a 5-1 decision.

Since only four players from the team will not return in 1956, the squad should ascend to even greater heights.

TRACK 1955

As predicted in 1954, the 1955 Classical track team compiled a much better record than during the previous year. Out of eight meets, the team won two, took two second places, one fifth and dropped three.

The highlights of the season were the Interschool and Western Massachusetts meets. In these, the team placed second and fifth respectively. In the Interschool Meet, John Kominski unleashed a discus throw that went 149 ft. 5 in. This not only won him the event, but set a new record also. The old record was 126 ft. 6 in., set by Curt Guilds, also a Classical trackman in his day.

Dick Fisk, probably the fastest runner in Western Massachusetts, suffered a leg injury that hampered him for the rest of the season. With Fisk in top form, the Classical team undoubtedly would have made an even better showing than they did in the latter half of the season.

In George Blake there was an unexpected boost to the squad. A freshman, Blake was the only member of the squad who copped a first in the Western Massachusetts Meet at Westfield, taking the blue ribbon in the high jump.

FOOTBALL

The 1955 Classical football team, with only four lettermen returning, did better than expected, winding up with a 3 and 3 record. Coach Henry Batt, assisted by Donald Campbell, did a remarkable rebuilding job especially in the line.

Classical got off to a good start with a 13 to 6 win over Dalton. The Classical scores were made by Catron from the 6 yard line and by Fortier from the 1 yard line, with Fortier adding the extra point. Classical then dropped its next three games to Trade (39 to 0), Holyoke Catholic (32 to 6), and Brattleboro (26 to 6), although in these games the team didn't look so bad as the scores indicate. Classical broke their losing streak by squeezing past Worcester Commerce (14 to 12) on two fourth-period touchdowns by Jim Catron. The all-important extra points were made by Bill Knaus. Classical played its best game against Enfield High, both on defense and offense, with Cole playing exceptionally well, although he was injured late in the game. Classical scores were made on a six-yard run around the end by Fortier; the second was on a 30-yard run by Catron. The Classical — Turners Falls game was rained out and was not re-played.

The outlook for next year is good, for only four of the starting team will be lost through graduation, and ten lettermen will be returning.

SOCCKER — 1955

Classical, under the skillful coaching of Mr. Vaughan in previous years, has always succeeded in producing a well balanced and organized soccer team. During the 1954 season, the players worked hard enough to enter the finals of Western Massachusetts, but because of overconfidence, they lost a heartbreaker to Monson High School. However, during this season, the team was able to reach its full potential by earning not only city but also Western Massachusetts co-championship.

In the beginning of the season, the hopes of the Bulldogs were darkened when they lost two, tied two, and nosed out only one victory over the Cathedral team. The squad really started rolling by bringing forth an unexpected victory over the team of Technical High. Games played during the remainder of the season resulted in four wins and one loss.

The Bulldogs witnessed a most successful season because of the teamwork and individual ability of the players and the coaching of Mr. Vaughan. An outstanding scorer was center Paul Beck, who scored 40% of the total goals. The team would have been crippled without the fine defensive work and play-making of Harvey Mazer and Gerry Steinberg. Powerful and most accurate booting by Nick Bazos and John Edgerly were important factors in perfecting our team. Good judgment and fast thinking of Dave Vaughan, Classical goalie, formed a barrier before our defending goal. Also active varsity players were Wolf, Field, Washburn, Weber, Torrey, and Horowitz.

With four of the 1954 starters returning this year, the 1955 Classical basketball team compiled a record of thirteen wins and five losses. The fifth position, center, was capably handled by freshman, Bill Wallach, who worked in so well with the other four that it seemed he had played with them for three years instead of one.

The best game of the season was played on January 13, when Classical played Cathedral. On that night an inspired Blue and White team handed the Purple and White a thorough drubbing, 75-34. Two weeks later, the Bulldogs turned back arch-rival Tech by fifteen points, 76-61.

Coach Don Vaughan's charges came extremely close to winning the Interschool title this season. Before Classical played the second game with Cathedral, the two teams stood at 5-1 with three games remaining. Cathedral won the game by the narrow margin of eight points, 62-54, and thereby won the title.

The 1955 team featured the shooting skill of Leo Best and Steve Kinsman. Best's average of 21 points per game was one of the ten best in Western Massachusetts, and best in the city.

Next year Coach Vaughan must build a new team, as Kinsman and Leroy Best will graduate. However, he will have an excellent nucleus of Blake, Leo Best and Wallach to start with.

HOCKEY

The 1956 Classical hockey squad copped second place honors in the Division One League. This position qualified the team for one of the four berths in the Western Massachusetts Championship playoffs, along with West Springfield, Cathedral, and Technical.

In the semi-finals, the squad lost a bitterly fought contest to the pre-tourney favorite West Springfield, 0-2. Although in a losing cause goalie John Edgerly, defenseman Earl Quimby, and linesmen John Whittier and Paul Beck time and time again stole the spotlight from West Springfield. Classical then entered the consolation game and drew Technical as its opponent. Classical's puckmen nipped Technical in an overtime thriller 2-1 on Mike Kober's blue line shot.

Much of the credit must go to the Coach, Russ Peterson, who built the team this year around a nucleus of only two returning lettermen from last year's Western Massachusetts Champs — Paul Beck and John Whittier. To these players the coach added Earl Quimby, Ken Cole, John Edgerly, David Cruikshank, Martin Fairley, Jon Vining, Herbert Wolf and Dick Paveglio to form a strong team.

Looking forward to the 1956-1957 season, the Classical hockey team looms as a top contender for the championship since only two players will be lost from this year's team.

SWIMMING

The 1956 Classical swimming team splashed its way to the best season in years. Through the efforts of high-scoring captains, Fred Mazer and Dick Young, and newcomers, Grant Heggie and Ned Walsh, the mermen compiled a record of five wins and four losses, a second place in the Western Massachusetts Championships, and sixth the State Championships.

The outstanding meet of the year was the victory over Holyoke. The Classical team, led by double-winner

Mazer and winners Young, Walsh, and Heggie, won the contest by a margin of one point.

In the New England Championships, Classical's ace freestyler, Mazer, took a second place in the 200 yard freestyle event and a fifth in the individual medley, scoring more points in this meet than any other Classical swimming team. With many lettermen returning next year, Coach Otto Wulff expects another winning season.

BOWLING — 1956

The 1956 bowling team ended the season with five wins and five losses out of ten matches. This year the Bulldogs had four returning lettermen to form the nucleus of the team: Allan White, LeRoy Hershberger, Leo Petit and Captain Jon Prothero.

Bowling matches, which were governed by the regulation Candle Pin rules, were rolled at the Rose Bowl Alleys. Each of the five members of the team bowled three strings; the total pinfall of each game determined the winner of the match.

Next year Coach Henry Batt will have to build an entirely new team, since almost all of the 1956 squad will graduate.

BASEBALL

Although during the 1955 season the Classical baseball team won only three games, we had several outstanding players. Among them, were John Sheehan, the leading batter in the interschool league, and Donald Atkins, one of the best pitchers in the league. Most of the losses were due to costly errors, but the team showed spirit and practiced good sportsmanship at all times. With several good players returning plus the freshmen that will go out we expect a better 1956 season.

"The happier the time, the quicker it passes."

PLINY THE YOUNGER

*"My salad days;
When I was green in judgment."*

SHAKESPEARE

"Bank Day" at the Bulldog Savings Bank, a Junior Achievement Company, provides the opportunity for Classical High School students to save ahead for the things they need and want.

But the need for saving does not end with graduation. How you handle your money will play an important part in your happiness, for if you spend unwisely, you will find your money gone and your real goals still unattained.

Make this important decision now — that you will save regularly. Bulldog bank books may always be used at any S.I.S. office, or we will be glad to open a new book if you have none.

Looney Lines

Now that it's time for seniors to leave
Freshmen and juniors will surely believe
That it wasn't so bad
It's really quite sad
And for our smiling faces they'll grieve.

There was a young student named Wayne,
Who wanted to fly his own plane.
He flew up so high
He got lost in the sky.
The plane? no doubt it was Wayne.

Trudy was a cute little bunny,
And Everett was her favorite honey.
At spending the dough
They put on the show,
For bank presidents have lots of money.

There was a young boy named Filley,
Who certainly was quite a dilly.
He had the gals in a whirl,
But kept Gail as his girl.
So you see, he wasn't too silly.

There was a young teacher named Soup,
Who rode in a little black coupe.
One morning at nine
It fell in the brine.
And now the poor coupe's in the soup.

In the blue and white where work is fun,
Our deadline's here before we've begun.
We're in such a fuss.
We're making a muss.
And it seems that we will never be done.

*"So much one man can do,
That does both act and know."*
